

The Middle East Facility Management Association (MEFMA), is looking to create stronger ties and awareness among its members through its (Member of the Month) program. The initiative highlights a chosen member and the contributions that they have made in the move to further promote the FM industry-including the member's initiatives, CSR activities and value additions offered to their customers.

Expert Advice

For myself personally, it's important never to underestimate the impact that FM has on the wider community. FM can be viewed as a combination of maintenance, housekeeping, security services etc., which take place to manage a building or location or alternatively, you can look at FM as creating "preferred places" - essentially great places to live, visit, and to work. These preferred places are locations that residents and building-users look forward to returning to and enjoy residing in, so given this importance, and the impact that "preferred places" have on people's overall happiness and productivity, these factors will always push us on to achieve more in the FM sector and to deliver excellence.

The Heart of Emrill's Success

As people are at the heart of their service delivery at Emrill, Alex is very proud to say that they scored 89% employee engagement in their recent staff survey entitled 'Your Say', which benchmarked with international standards, was 20% above the average score.

Emrill's Business Growth

During 2017 they achieved 10% growth in their business, largely coming from extending their existing partnerships to new sites, such as La Mer, but also through new customers acquired on the back of their reputation for service excellence, such as Dubai Health Care City.
